- Update: Jim Walker from UT on the Residential Parking Program. Jim notes that UT will not continue to pay for the RPP permits for Swede Hill residents after 2017. Additionally, the City of Austin is changing the way they administer the program and will require individuals to pay the City directly rather than through a neighborhood representative. We will keep you informed on the new procedures.
- Action Item: Residential Parking Program endorsement for Waller Street section. This application was endorsed by the members present.
- Presentation: CodeNEXT Position paper for OCEAN by Tracy Witte and Paula Reckson.

Other Business

- OCEAN update by Tracy Witte - See item above regarding CodeNEXT position paper.
- Central Health Update from Tracy Witte - Central Health officials have altered their proposal for the Brackenridge Campus redevelopment to request Central Business District (CBD) entitlements. Central Health officials perceive this alteration to be a simpler proposition for the redevelopment. They propose to go to the various Boards and Commissions in July/August, and proceed to City Council in September.

Announcements

The comments from 2017 up to June 6 for the draft code, and up to July 7 for the map will be “batched” to inform the next draft written code and draft map that will be released in mid-August.

- CodeNEXT batching deadline for public comments on the draft code is June 7
- CodeNEXT batching deadline for public comments on draft map is July 7

Please note: public comments will continue to be gathered by city staff for the rest of the year, and into 2018. Each batching informs the next draft of the code and the map.
